TIFF FEATURE COCKTAILS

THE GLASS ONION | $55

Inspired by: Glass Onion: A Knives Out Mystery

A film where famed southern detective Benit Blanc (Daniel Craig) travels to Greece for his latest case. Sip this concoction out of a unique hanging glass and allow mysterious flavours of cachaca, laphroaig and vanilla rooibos help crack the code. Garnished with florals unique to the island of Mykonos.

THE SWIMMERS | $35

Inspired by: The Swimmers

Premiering at The Opening Night Gala, This soaring epic dramatizes the true story of two sisters who left their home in war-torn Syria for a new life in Europe, and the chance to compete in the 2016 Summer Olympics. Inspired by Syrian flavours, cardamon, arak and anise, the cocktail is brought to life in the colour yellow, representing hope.

THE GALA | $35

Inspired by: Daliland

Daliland, the closing night film of Toronto International Film Festival paints a picture of the larger-than-life union of Spanish painter, Salvador and his vivacious wife, Gala. Celebrating Gala in all her glory, we've combined apple brandy from Normandy, local apple cider and calvados. Finished with a cinnamon dusting and a dehydrated gala apple.

THE WOMAN KING | $45

Inspired by: Woman King

Featuring a thrilling performance from Oscar winner Viola Davis, this tale brings to life the true story of the Agojie, the all-female military regiment charged with protecting the embattled African empire. With bold flavours of ginger, lemongrass and exotic lime found in the Kingdom of Dahomey, each ingredient represents strength, courage, and the power within.

THE ROSEBUD | $45

Inspired by: What's Love Got to Do with it

Lily James, Shazad Latif, and Emma Thompson star in Shekhar Kapur's smart, effervescent romantic comedy following a filmmaker who decides to document her best friend's journey toward arranged marriage. Taking place in Britain and drawing on one of the most well-loved spirits, Gin takes the stage in this cocktail alongside maraschino liquor and rosewater.

THE POLICEMAN | $40

Inspired by: My Policeman

This tale of forbidden romance and changing social conventions follows three people, policeman Tom (Harry Styles/Linus Roache), teacher Marion (Emma Corrin/Gina McKee), and museum curator Patrick (David Dawson/Rupert Everett), and their emotional journey spanning decades. This cocktail highlights a trio of key ingredients: lavender, grapefruit, and belvedere vodka.

THE BILLY | $55

Inspired by: Bros

This insightful rom-com about a witty, cynical podcaster navigating romance with an earnest, handsome lawyer is a pitch-perfect portrait of queer New York in all its variety. Highlighting the charisma of Billy Eichner, this cocktail is extravagant and truly one-of-a-kind. Served in a terrarium, with a plethora of savoury garnishes and smoked to absolute perfection.

THE LIBERTINE | $55

Inspired by: Paris Memories

A piercing examination of what it means to live through devastating violence, the latest from Festival regular Alice Winocour brilliantly dramatizes the way trauma can render our fragments of memory into a puzzle. This cocktail is clean, crisp and refreshing with a nod to our treasured Veuve Clicquot champagne.

THE GREATEST BEER | $15

Inspired by: The Greatest Beer Run Ever

Zac Efron and Russell Crowe star in Peter Farrelly's follow-up to Green Book, about a merchant seaman who, in 1967, accepted a bet to personally deliver a case of beer from New York to his army buddies in Vietnam. Sip on Shangri-La's signature B-Wall Beer made locally with honey from our beehive and a little surprise on the side.
